Choose from a variety of colors to present your message. Unique color swatches can be downloaded and printed using the Site Color Swatch Library. Each color swatch is a custom file, that provides a print friendly preview of how a color will look when printed. If you've worked with a color before, you can simply look up the code for the color, and use the existing color library to download the color swatch file for that color. If you are unsure of the code for a color, simply email

What's New In?

"Shock Sticker is powerful and easy-to-use sticky notes software. Want to quickly jot down some notes, sketches, texts etc. in sticky notes or create sticky notes? In a very short time, you can create an unlimited number of sticky notes. The sticky notes can be saved in your computer, and can be exported as text, RTF or TXT file. " Power Applications Software powered by CA Technologies Multiple ways to create new stickers There's a core set of options and functions you can only access from the tray icon, which is also where you find the application in the first place. On launch, there's a tooltip showing up to let you know it's there. It's set to run with Windows by default so you have sticky notes ready as soon as you reach the desktop, but this can be changed from the options panel. Interacting with the tray icon is one way of creating a new note, or sticker, as they're called here. These can also be created from the tray icon menu which springs up when right-clicking, or directly from a sticker, in case you're already editing one. Additionally, custom hotkeys make for an even faster way to add new stickers. Customization options, and extra tools Stickers can be fully customized in terms of visuals. Although there isn't an integrated option to have a random color selected for every new note, you're free to set a default style for new ones. Color can also be changed from each sticker's set of options. The title can be changed as well, and this comes in handy since a sticker minimizes to show only the title bar when double-clicking it. Text benefits from customization options as well. As such, you're able to pick a different font, bold the text, turn it to italic, underline, use bullets, strikethrough, change color, or align using one of the three preset styles. Saving a note can be done under the application's own format. What's more, these can be exported under TXT or RTF file formats, but note that most text customization options get discarded when saving as TXT. Last but not least, the application allows you to secure a sticker with a custom password. This doesn't have to apply to all, but only specific ones. When locked
